

Preface

This mapbook was commissioned to be a visually and analytically compelling look at local economic conditions in their broader spatial context. The report is the result of the efforts of a team of economists, computer specialists, graphic artists, visual information specialists, and editors. Richard M. Devens, Chief, Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) Publishing Division, provided overall project direction. Keith L. Tapscott of the BLS Publishing Division was the project's art director. The principal authors were Patricia Aleman (Office of Compensation and Working Conditions), Edna Biederman (Office of Employment and Unemployment Statistics), James Grounds (Office of Employment and Unemployment Statistics), Douglas K. Himes (Office of Employment and Unemployment Statistics), Guy Podgornik (Office of Employment and Unemployment Statistics), and Harriet G. Weinstein (Office of Compensation and Working Conditions). The report was edited by Mary Kay Rieg and the text was designed and laid out by Phyllis Lott and Margaret Jones (all of the BLS Publishing Division).
