

Nearly a quarter of private-sector jobs in the United States were in the trade, transportation, and utilities industry.

📊 In 2008, there were 113,188,643 jobs in the private sector.

📊 Eighty percent of private-sector employment was in service-providing industries.

FIGURE 1 Private-sector employment by industry, 2008

Millions of workers

