

Louisiana and Texas: Price Movements of Top Energy Exports and Other Highlights

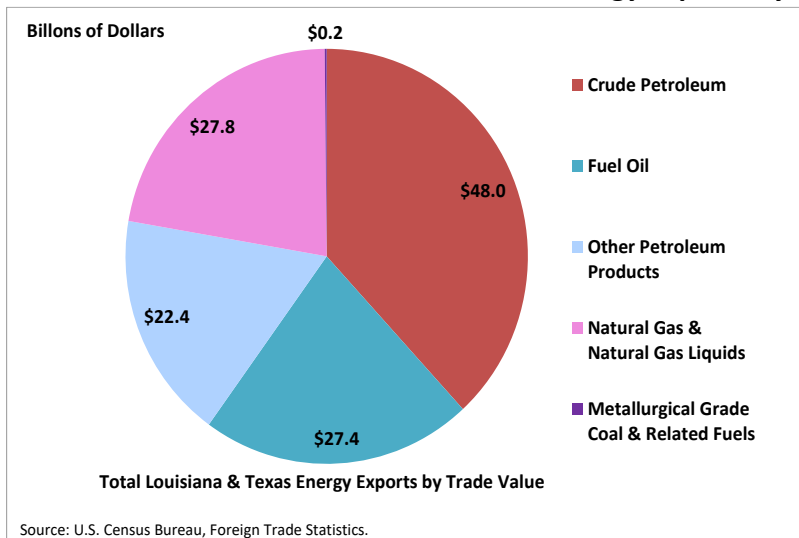

August 2021

www.bls.gov/mxp

Texas and Louisiana accounted for just over $125.8 billion in energy export trade dollar value in 2020. In total, U.S. energy exports fell 22.4 percent in trade dollar value from 2019 to 2020. Overall fuels and lubricants prices climbed 21.8 percent over the past 3 months, and increased 73.5 percent over the past 12 months. The export price indexes for fuel oil, light oils and other petroleum products, and petroleum products increased during the 3 months ended in July.

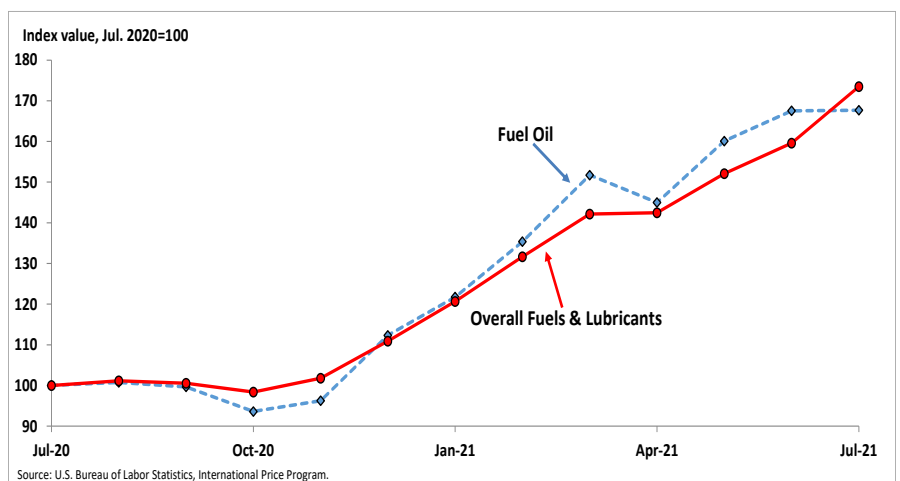

Louisiana & Texas Energy Exports by Trade Dollar Value, 2020

- With a combined value of just over $125.8 billion, Texas and Louisiana accounted for 81.1 percent of U.S. energy exports in 2020, up from 79.4 percent of total U.S. energy exports in 2019.
- The trade dollar value of crude petroleum—the largest energy export for Texas and Louisiana—declined 23.0 percent from 2019 to 2020, accounting for around 38.2 percent of 2020 energy exports from the region.
- Natural gas, fuel oil, and other petroleum products (light oils) ranked second, third, and fourth, respectively, for energy exports by trade dollar value in the region.

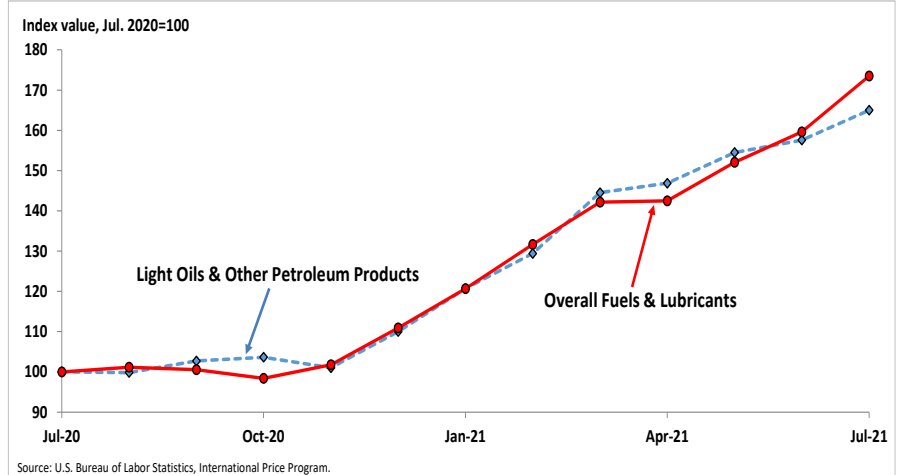

U.S. Export Price Indexes: Fuel Oil

- The price index for export fuel oil increased 15.7 percent from April to July.
- The 3-month increase in export fuel oil prices was the largest 3-month advance since prices rose 18.3 percent in May 2021.
- The price index for export fuel oil increased 67.7 percent during the 12 months ended in July.

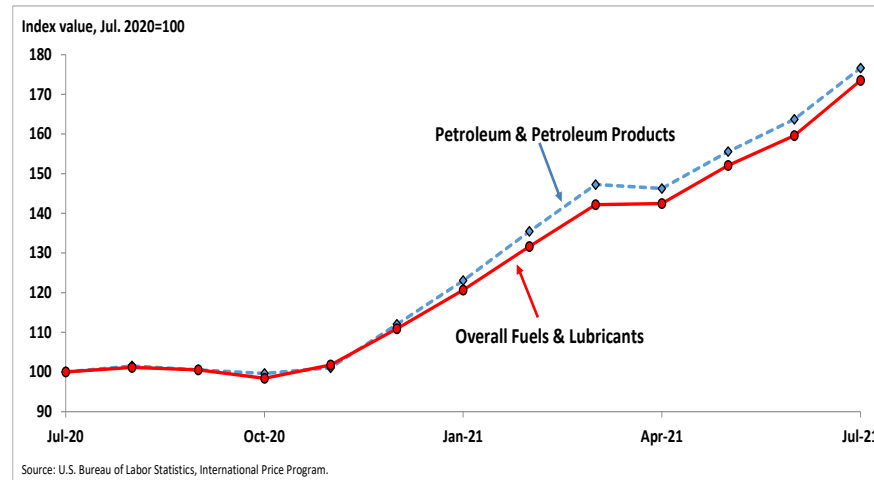

U.S. Export Price Indexes: Light Oils and Other Petroleum Products

- Export prices for light oils and other petroleum products advanced 12.4 percent during the 3 months ended in July.
- Light oils export prices have not experienced a 3-month decline since falling 18.5 percent in June 2020.
- Prices for export light oils and other petroleum products increased 65.0 percent over the past year.

U.S. Export Price Indexes: Petroleum and Petroleum Products Prices

- Export petroleum and petroleum products prices increased 20.8 percent over the past 3 months.
- Prices for export petroleum and petroleum products prices rose 76.6 percent from July 2020 to July 2021.
- The 12-month advance in export petroleum prices is the largest annual increase since May 2021.

Top Six States Exporting Energy by Trade Dollar Value, 2020

- Texas was the largest energy exporting state in 2020, accounting for 64.8 percent of U.S. energy exports by trade dollar value. Louisiana ranked second, accounting for 16.3 percent.
- North Dakota and Pennsylvania, the third and fourth largest exporting states, both accounted for 2.1 percent of total U.S. energy exports.
- The dollar value of energy exports from Louisiana was more than twice the value from the next four states combined.

