Average Energy Prices, Chicago-Gary-Kenosha — July 2016

Gasoline prices averaged $2.403 a gallon in the Chicago-Gary-Kenosha area in July 2016, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today. Assistant Commissioner for Regional Operations Charlene Peiffer noted that area gasoline prices were down 62.6 cents compared to July 2015 when they averaged $3.029 per gallon. Chicago area households paid an average of 15.3 cents per kilowatt-hour (kWh) of electricity in July 2016, 4.4 percent less than the 16.0 cents per kWh paid in July 2015. In July, the average cost of utility (piped) gas was 78.1 cents per therm, down from its average price of 78.3 cents per therm a year earlier. (Data in this release are not seasonally adjusted; accordingly, over-the-year-analysis is used throughout.)

At $2.403 a gallon, prices for gasoline in the Chicago area were 11.6 cents higher than the national average of $2.287 a gallon in July 2016. In the previous four years (2012-2015) in July, Chicago area gasoline prices were also higher than the national average, ranging from 7.9 cents to 31.4 cents more. (See chart 1.)

The Consumer Price Index for August 2016 is scheduled to be released on Friday, September 16, 2016.

Technical Note

Average prices are estimated from Consumer Price Index (CPI) data for selected commodity series to support the research and analytic needs of CPI data users. Average prices for electricity, utility (piped) gas, and gasoline are published monthly for the U.S. city average, the 4 regions, the 3 population size classes, 10 region/size-class cross-classifications, and the 14 largest local index areas. For electricity, average prices per kilowatt-hour (kWh) are published. For utility (piped) gas, average prices per therm are published. For gasoline, the average price per gallon is published. Average prices for commonly available grades of gasoline are published as well as the average price across all grades.

All eligible prices are converted to a price per normalized quantity. These prices are then used to estimate a price for a defined fixed quantity. The average price per kilowatt-hour represents the total bill divided by the kilowatt-hour usage. The total bill is the sum of all items applicable to all consumers appearing on an electricity bill including, but not limited to, variable rates per kWh, fixed costs, taxes, surcharges, and credits. This calculation also applies to the average price per therm for utility (piped) gas.
