Average Energy Prices, Chicago-Gary-Kenosha — November 2017

Gasoline prices averaged $2.848 a gallon in the Chicago-Gary-Kenosha area in November 2017, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today. Assistant Commissioner for Regional Operations Charlene Peiffer noted that area gasoline prices were up 60.6 cents compared to November 2016 when they averaged $2.242 per gallon. Chicago area households paid an average of 15.8 cents per kilowatt-hour (kWh) of electricity in November 2017, up 6.8 percent from November 2016. In November, the average cost of utility (piped) gas was 82.3 cents per therm, lower than its average price of 86.9 cents per therm a year earlier. (Data in this release are not seasonally adjusted; accordingly, over-the-year-analysis is used throughout.)

At $2.848 a gallon, prices for gasoline in the Chicago area were 24.0 cents higher than the $2.608 national average in November 2017. With the exception of November 2016, when Chicago area gasoline prices were similar to the national average, Chicago area gasoline prices in the previous four years (2013-2016) in November have exceeded the national average, ranging from 8.3 cents to 12.6 cents more. (See chart 1.)

The Consumer Price Index for December 2017 is scheduled to be released on Friday, January 12, 2018.

Consumer Price Index Geographic Revision for 2018

In January 2018, BLS will introduce a new geographic area sample for the Consumer Price Index (CPI). As part of the new sample, the index for this area will be renamed. The first indexes using the new structure will be published in February 2018. Additional information on the geographic revision is available at: www.bls.gov/cpi/additional-resources/geographic-revision-2018.htm.

Technical Note

Average prices are estimated from Consumer Price Index (CPI) data for selected commodity series to support the research and analytic needs of CPI data users. Average prices for electricity, utility (piped) gas, and gasoline are published monthly for the U.S. city average, the 4 regions, the 3 population size classes, 10 region/size-class cross-classifications, and the 14 largest local index areas. For electricity, average prices per kilowatt-hour (kWh) are published. For utility (piped) gas, average prices per therm are published. For gasoline, the average price per gallon is published. Average prices for commonly available grades of gasoline are published as well as the average price across all grades.

All eligible prices are converted to a price per normalized quantity. These prices are then used to estimate a price for a defined fixed quantity. The average price per kilowatt-hour represents the total bill divided by the kilowatt-hour usage. The total bill is the sum of all items applicable to all consumers appearing on an electricity bill including, but not limited to, variable rates per kWh, fixed costs, taxes, surcharges, and credits. This calculation also applies to the average price per therm for utility (piped) gas.
