Average Energy Prices, Cleveland-Akron-Lorain — August 2017

Gasoline prices averaged $2.302 a gallon in the Cleveland-Akron-Lorain area in August 2017, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today. Assistant Commissioner for Regional Operations Charlene Peiffer noted that area gasoline prices were up 14.7 cents compared to August 2016 when they averaged $2.155 per gallon. Cleveland area households paid an average of 13.9 cents per kilowatt-hour (kWh) of electricity in August 2017, 9.4 percent higher than the 12.7 cents per kWh paid in August 2016. Utility (piped) gas averaged 84.5 cents per therm in August, up from its average price of 61.5 cents per therm a year earlier. (Data in this release are not seasonally adjusted; accordingly, over-the-year-analysis is used throughout.)

At $2.302 a gallon, costs for gasoline in the Cleveland area were 13.4 cents lower than the national average of $2.436 in August 2017. Cleveland area gasoline prices in the previous four years (2013-2016) in August have been lower than the nation average, ranging from 5.8 cents to 17.9 cents lower. (See chart 1.)

Consumer Price Index Geographic Revision 2018

In January 2018, BLS will introduce a new geographic area sample for the Consumer Price Index (CPI). As part of the the new sample, average energy prices for this area will be discontinued. Additional information on the geographic revision is available at: www.bls.gov/cpi/additional-resources/geographic-revision-2018.htm.

Technical Note

Average prices are estimated from Consumer Price Index (CPI) data for selected commodity series to support the research and analytic needs of CPI data users. Average prices for electricity, utility (piped) gas, and gasoline are published monthly for the U.S. city average, the 4 regions, the 3 population size classes, 10 region/size-class cross-classifications, and the 14 largest local index areas. For electricity, average prices per kilowatt-hour (kWh) are published. For utility (piped) gas, average prices per therm are published. For gasoline, the average price per gallon is published. Average prices for commonly available grades of gasoline are published as well as the average price across all grades.

All eligible prices are converted to a price per normalized quantity. These prices are then used to estimate a price for a defined fixed quantity. The average price per kilowatt-hour represents the total bill divided by the kilowatt-hour usage. The total bill is the sum of all items applicable to all consumers appearing on an electricity bill including, but not limited to, variable rates per kWh, fixed costs, taxes, surcharges, and credits. This calculation also applies to the average price per therm for utility (piped) gas.
